This Week in Harrisburg

Yet again, my Republican colleagues chose to spend our time in session this week focusing on legislation that does NOT better the lives of Pennsylvanians. We spent most of our time, going late into the night on Tuesday, debating and voting on anti-safety gun bills. Two bills introduced by state Republicans aim to allow permitless concealed carry (Senate Bill 565), including in Philadelphia, and further restrict the ability of local municipalities to make gun laws that make sense for their communities and residents (Senate Bill

“What do you think the legislation hasn’t done to stop the gun violence?”

“What have you been trying to do to stop the gun violence?
And is it working?”

“What do you think will help the violence?”
